Pierce, Butler & Pierce's New Catalogue.

To fully comprehend the resources of the big concerns whose energies are devoted to the construction of steam and hot water boilers and radiators, one would have to wade through tons of literature devoted to the subject of house warming, the most important of which are the elaborate and expensive catalogues prepared with great care and so thoroughly practical that a child can understand their utility.

The Pierce, Butler & Pierce catalogue has just been issued. It contains about one hundred highly illuminated pages of superlative paper, exquisitely printed and the engravings are superb.

A picture of the works at Syracuse, N. Y., conveys to the reader an idea of the immensity of this concern.

Architect Notes.

Messrs. Schermhorn & Reinhold, 430 Walnut street, have about finished plans for alterations to a three story addition, 22x24 feet, to the residence of Mr. Thomas A. Glenn, at Wynnewood, Pa. The owner will oversee the work and take bids; and the same architects have completed plans for a finely furnished bathroom to be built on the third story of William Henry Sutton's house, at Haverford, Pa.

Architect Isaac Pursell, 119 South Fourth street, will soon start on plans and specifications for the construction of a church at Allentown, Pa., for the First Baptist congregation of that place. The structure will be one story and basement, of stone and granite. A handsome Sunday school and parsonage building will be built in addition to the church edifice. The cost of the buildings will be about $50,000.

Architects Collins & Autenreith, 410 Walnut street, have been engaged by Thomas Martindale & Co., Tenth and Market streets, to prepare plans embracing alterations and additions to 939 Market street, as well as the proposed new buildings on Tenth street. able the firm to continue business without interruption. Contractors will be asked for bids about the end of May, or sooner if plans are completed.

WILLIAM WARNER HARPER PROPRIETOR

CHESTNUT HILL. PHILA. PA.

N. Thouron at Merion, Pa. The plans were made by Architect T. P. Chandler, 328 Chestnut street.

Contractor J. D. Lingle, Wayne, Pa., has been awarded the contract for the three-story stone residence for A. P. Baugh, of this city, to be erected at Wynnewood, Pa. Architect David Knickerbacker Boyd, Harrison Building, Philadelphia, drew the plans.

J. L. Sweigard, Betz Building, Philadelphia, who is interested in the Merrill-Sargeant Pneumatic Company, says the company is negotiating for a site upon which to erect a $150,000 manufacturing plant at Reading, Pa. Work will begin as soon as site is acquired.

The Building Committee of the Commonwealth Trust Company will meet again this week. Twenty-one different sketches and plans have been submitted, all of which, of course, in face of the well conceded ability of our Philadelphia architects, make the selection more difficult.

Improvements to Memorial Hall have been decided upon by the Fairmount Park Commissioners. They will include repairs to the roof, to cost about $9000; a new art gallery to be made by roofing and enclosing a court, to cost about $10,000; new public lavatories about $9000, and regilding the dome.

The Remington Machine Company, of Wilmington, Del., W. E. Garrett & Sons Incorporated, will erect a brick warehouse at Yorklyn, Del., for which proposals are wanted. The plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the company, B. A. Hazell, business manager, 224 South Front street, Philadelphia.

Postmaster Harry Bacharach, of Atlantic City, Isaac Bacharach, I. E. Evans and C. C. Shinn, are the parties who purchased the old Albion Hotel property, at Atlantic City, from W. S. L. Shields, Witherspoon Building. The hotel will be demolished and the site cut up into building lots, and will build some cottages next winter.

The trustees of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, 1725 Cherry street, have applied for State appropriation to complete improvements and to erect new buildings. The fact is the pressure has become so great upon the hospital that its means will not afford sufficient resources to meet its present necessities. Over $300,000 is wanted.

The bids are all in for the office building for which George Washington Powell had Architect Frank H. Watson prepare plans. The building if erected, will be at 1426 Chestnut street, but nothing can be done in the way of awarding the contract until the lease with the Commercial Trust Company, which now occupies the premises, expires.

Builder Frank S. Riggs, 1530 Chestnut street, has plans for a handsome dwelling to be built at Broomall Delaware county, Pa., for Dr. I. Burton Roberts. It will be a three-story and basement stone structure, and will contain all the latest improvements. The drawings were made by Wesley Leshner Blight, architect, 14 South Broad street.

Mr. E. R. Ellis, of Pashchalville, Philadelphia, has bought about twelve acres of land with a frontage on Main street, Darby, of 500 feet, and extending to Darby creek, for $20,000, including two dwellings on Woodland avenue, near sixty-eighth street. Mr. Ellis will subdivide the tract into fine building lots and will open three streets from Main street to Darby creek.

We desire to correct our contemporaries, the dailies. In the first place the Keystone Telephone Company has nothing to do with the proposed office building at the southwest corner of Broad and Arch streets. Mr. Robert H. Foerderer is the sole owner. Mr. Houston is not the architect, nor has an architect been selected. Mr. Houston has the contract for demolishing the old church.

Geo. H. Fuller, 305 Stephen Girard Building, are the contractors for the seven-story brick warehouse at the northwest corner of Delaware avenue and Gatzmer street, to cost $500,000. It is to be fire proof. This will be for the Merchants' Warehousing Company. G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, and John A. Patterson, civil engineer associate. Plans reported in issue of March 13th.

Builder Harry Hill, 711 Walnut street, is estimating on a large brick and iron factory building, to be built for a local company, on Race street, below Broad street. The drawings show a two-story and basement building, 42 x 172 feet, with all latest interior conveniences and factory appointments, including electric lighting steam heating cement and wood flooring freight elevators, etc.

John Goll & Co., 1539 Filbert street, have the contract for the subway on the line of Market street, Harrisburg, Pa., under the P. & R. and the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks. Work is in charge of S. F. Righter, assistant to Chief Engineer Brown, Penn. R. R. Co., Broad Street Station, Philadelphia. Same contractor will build a passenger tunnel at Villa Nova, Pa., for the Penn. R. R. Co.

The congregation of Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church is raising a fund for a new edifice to take the place of the present structure at Fifty-sixth and Race streets. Rev. J. Henry Hartman is the pastor. Ferdinand Chadwick, Harry L. Young, William Smith, B. F. Rapp, David G. Frankensfield Jacob M. Stinger, H. S. Dewees, H. C. Alexander and I. P. Herchelroth, trustees and building committee.

The first thing you know the Equitable Trust Company, now located in the Betz Building, will be looking for a site for a large office building. Its many friends think it strange that with its wonderful prosperity under the management of President Harbary, that it does not permanently locate itself in a building of its own, which would in a more pronounced way assert its high character as a financial institution.

The Wade-Gilpin Company, Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, have been awarded the contract for alterations to the Hotel Wilmington, of Wilmington, Del. Architect H. T. Willis, of Wilmington, drew the plans for this work which will cost about $18,000. This firm has also received the contract for erecting a stable at Radnor, Pa., for Craig Biddle, to cost $23,000. Plans and specifications by Architects Peabody & Stearns, Boston, Mass.

A charter has been granted the Delaware River Electric Company, with a capital of $500,000. A. J. Cooper, of New York city, is president; William A. Selby, of Buffalo, is secretary; and G. M. Steward, R. G. Williams and J. H. Eckerlesley, of Scranton, Pa., are directors. Options have been secured on a number of farms along the Delaware river near Phillipsburg, N. J., with a view of constructing a viaduct to convey the water or power to Easton, Phillipsburg, Bangor, Belvidere, Portland, Penargyle, Washington, Water Gap, Hackettstown and other places.

NOW WE GET IT STRAIGHT.

The newspaper reports that Mr. Wm. Riddle, of Atlantic City, would build a hotel, from plans by Architect Harding, of Philadelphia, is best answered by Mr. Riddle himself:

Atlantic City, April 24, 1901.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MAY 8, 1901

"Colonel Jim."

That indefatigable worker, Col. Jas. T. Davis, Architects and Builders' Directory for 1901, is out.

If the hundreds and more who yearly come to this office for the address of architects and builders would subscribe for this invaluable book, they would materially contribute to its success, besides having within each the very information they are compelled to seek. Price $2.00. Office, 703 Chestnut street.

For years the old hardware house of Edw. A. Hollis, 1904 Market street, has justly merited and received the confidence and patronage of a large share of the building trades of this city and vicinity. Its strictly reliable methods of doing business has gained for it extended popularity, as well as a liking, among its customers to trade there. Mr. Hollis some years ago accepted the agency for the Morse Patent Steel Wall Ties, a simple but original and very practical appliance made of steel wire, which is now being used very successfully by masons and builders for binding hollow walls, tying terra cotta work, securing brick facings, anchoring marble or Jasper facings, bonding linings or strengthening any form of masonry work, the whole comprising a system of bonding which has largely displaced former methods and forms of construction. Mr. Hollis has pushed the Morse tie until its sale has become a large factor in his extensive hardware business.

Architect Notes.

Architect William J. McAuley has taken offices in the Real Estate Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets. Mr. McAuley has quite a number of plans under way, including the following: A handsome three-story stone and frame summer house at Chelsea N. J., for Mr. William M. Bunn, Esq., of this city, upon which estimates will be asked this week; alterations and additions to the residence of David B. Martin, at Brandywine Summit, Pa., for which estimates will be asked within a week; a handsome residence, to be erected in West Philadelphia for Mr. John A. Kelly. This will be a modern dwelling house in every respect, measuring 86x53 feet. It will be constructed of stone and brick, with a slate roof, and heated by steam, supplemented by open fireplaces.

Mr. H. F. Webb, a merchant residing on Corlies avenue, has bought through Messrs. Lamb & Co., real estate brokers, 727 Walnut street, the two properties, 214 and 216 South Twelfth street, extending back to James street. Mr. Webb, it is stated, will erect a bachelors' apartment house. The site is 30 x 84 feet. We are informed that no architect has been engaged.

Architect George T. Pearson, 427 Walnut street, has invited bids from W. J. Patterson and A. S. Tourison for the erection of E. W. Clark's house, at Chestnut Hill, and has also asked bids from Oliver Bros., William Probst, Jr., A. R. Kerr, G. W. Sheaff and V. H. Slawther, all of Chester, Pa., for house and stable of Samuel Crowther, to be built at Chester, Pa. Bids are due May 15.

Mrs. Hannah Marot, previous to her decease had plans drawn for a six-story apartment house, to be located on Third-third street, between Baring street and Povelton avenue. The plans are in the hands of Mr. Nathaniel E. Janney, Land Title Building. The operation is held in abeyance owing to the death of the owner. The estate, however, may revive the subject of building this fall.

Architect Harry H. King, Heed Building, has awarded W. H. Shepherd & Son, the contract for the large office building to be built for S. G. Seager, at Hazleton, Pa., as previously noted in this paper. It will be a brick and stone structure, terra cotta trimmings, contain the latest office appointments and conveniences and elevators and will measure 66x150 feet. Work will begin on same at once.

Mr. Benjamin F. Sage, a resident of Riverton, N. J., has purchased through Lamb & Co., real estate brokers, 727 Walnut street, the Colonial Apartment House, Eleventh and Spruce streets, as well as the property 1102 Spruce street. Mr. Sage, we are informed by Lamb & Co., will enlarge the Colonial in the interests of a prospective tenant. The plans that are said to exist, which are a sketch prepared by a tenant, were prepared before Mr. Sage was interested in the purchase, and as it stands, Mr. Sage will select an architect to prepare plans, as we are justified in saying that no plans have been accepted nor has any architect been engaged.

Sackett's Plaster Boards.

In view of the many serious disappointments arising from the use of imperfect as well as improperly constructed plaster boards, it is particularly pleasant to learn that there is at least one in the market which will not only meet every requirement, but which will stand up under all conditions to the great satisfaction of plasterers, builders and owners. The Sackett Plaster Boards, while comparatively new in this section, have been tried for years in the best and largest operations in New York and its vicinity, and there is not a single instance in which the board has failed. Messrs. Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets, are the selling agents for this section, and it must not be forgotten that this old and reliable house will not endorse any product, however positive the claim, without knowing whereof it speaks. The Sackett Plaster Boards represent a cleanly wholesome, economical method, and will surely meet with great favor in this section.

An Old Firm and Old Friends.

Philadelphia is noted for its old and well-tried business firms more than any city in the country. Among these old and reliable concerns none command greater respect and esteem than the paint manufacturing concern of Felton, Stibley & Co., 136 to 140 N. Fourth street. In these days of mixing things it is something to know where straight paints and oils and other things that are needed in house construction can be purchased with confidence as to their purity. The above old reliable firm merits its present popularity, for it has justly earned it.

Architect Notes.

Architect E. F. Durang, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, has awarded F. McShane, 1517 South Thirtieth street, the contract for the erection of St. Monica's Roman Catholic Church, at Seventeenth and Ritner streets. The structure will be one story and basement, built of Port Deposit stone, slate roof, terra cotta trimmings, copper cornices, and cost about $46,000. The work is to be completed about November 1.

J., the contract for the stone addition and extensive alterations to be made to the Mechanics' National Bank of Burlington, N. J., and have awarded John D. Lippincott, of Burlington, N. Pritchett, Jr., 418 Walnut street has awarded Builders Machin & Brown, 147 North Seventh street, the contract for the erection of the large stable and riding academy, to be built for John J. Short & Bro., at Twenty-first and Chestnut streets. The plans show a four-story and basement structure, of stone, brick and iron, and cost about $60,000. It will contain all the latest appointments, including electric lighting, cement flooring, steam heating and modern plumbing.

Architects G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, Bullitt Building, are the architects for the new warehouse to be erected on the northeast corner of Eleventh and Arch streets. Final sketches will be submitted this week to conform to the ideas of Mr. John Pitcairn, president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, office Land Title Building, and Mr. M. H. Sealey, the local manager. While it is not definitely settled as to the height of the building, it will probably be eight stories. It will have elevators, machinery and electric light plant.

pany has purchased a tract of land at Sixty-third and Market streets, and extending into upper Darby. Price $4000. This is no doubt intended as a site for a power house or car shed in connection with the road.

City Councils have appropriated $75,000 to begin work on a new bridge across the Schuylkill at Passyunk avenue, near the Point Breeze oil refineries. The bridge will be of the Bascule type, the bridge breaking in the middle and raised from the ends upward.

The contracts for the new buildings for the Midvale Steel Company were given, one to Cramp & Co., 1421 Filbert street, for a machineshop 85 x 421 feet, of brick and steel for $160,000, and one to Harry Brocklehurst, 514 Norris street, for $60,000, the latter to be 164 x 324 feet.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, Justice Mestrezah giving the decision, has decided that the law gives the right to select school sites to the Board of Education, and that such right does not belong to City Councils. Case of Michael O'Rourke vs. Board of Education.

The Rittenhouse quarry, Germantown, have been awarded the contract to furnish the cut stone work for a new school house to be erected at Fifty-second and Pine streets, and foundation stone for new school house to be erected at Penn street and Pulaski avenue, Germantown.

It is stated that the Wolf Ideal Leather Company, after the grades and lines of the section between Whittaker avenue, Castor, Adams and Vankirk streets have been changed, will lay out Ideal avenue, on which it will erect a number of dwellings for its workmen. The cost will be about $500,000.

Thos. M. Seeds Jr., 1216 Race street, received the contract for the one-story and basement stone church for the Mt. Airy Presbyterian Congregation at the N. W. cor. Germantown and Mt. Pleasant avenues, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia. Cost, $25,000. Jos. M. Houston, architect, Witherspoon Building.

The Department of Public Safety has awarded the following contracts: For the erection of the First district station house, to D. A. McClellan, 515 South Twentieth street, for $26,623; for erection of fire house at Carpenter street and Germantown avenue, to H. A. Miller & Sons, 1609 Allegheny avenue, for $26,824.

The Rev. Oswald G. McDowell, pastor of the Oak Lane Presbyterian Church, advises us that no steps have as yet been taken towards the proposed church building, as it depends entirely upon the congregation's ability to raise the money. When it is possible to do so, a stone church building to cost about $25,000 will be built and a main addition to cost $20,000. The addition may be the first erected.

The City Councils have been asked for an appropriation of $500,000, for improvements mainly to the Schuylkill river. $300,000 of the appropriation will be used to deepen the channel of the Schuylkill, in keeping with the Government's plan; the balance, or $200,000, to be used in clearing the Delaware river of the rock known as Schooner Ledge, at Chester, Pa. The Committee on Navigation and Finance of City Councils visited the proposed work on Monday last.

Messrs. Cramp & Co., 1421 Filbert street, have closed a contract with Franklin J. Wood, 118 Market street, Newark, N. J., for the erection of a twelve-story and basement office building, to be built at 828-30 Broad street, Newark, N. J., from plans by Architects Hurd & Sutton, of Newark, N. J. It will be a brick and stone structure, steel frame, entirely fireproof, measure 44x175 feet, cost nearly $1,000,000, and will contain all the most modern office equipments and appointments.

The Pennsylvania R. R. Co. has decided upon several important improvements for its P. W. & B. branch. A new station will be erected in the vicinity of Thirty-third and Market streets, Philadelphia. This will be two-stories and will do away with the present station at South street, as well as the Lowell Avenue Station on the main line. The upper story will be on a level with the main line tracks for New York travel, while the ground floor will be used for southern travel.

The property committee of the Board of Education opened bids on Tuesday for the erection of the new school houses. The committee recommended that the award for the school at Eighteenth and Snyder avenue be given to W. J. Smith for $67,565. Also school at Eighteenth and Clearfield streets to same builder at $64,700. Also to same, contract for the addition to the Northwest Grammar School for $7897. George W. Pearson's bid for the school at Turner and Dittmann streets was in excess of the apportionment, $85,000, and could not be awarded, while it was the lowest. The property committee also recommended the purchase of northwest corner of Jackson and Third streets for $20,000.

Pennock, 305 Walnut street, for extensive alterations, additions and improvements to the Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company's buildings at 508 and 510 Walnut street. Bids close June 3. The same builders have also been invited by Architects A. W. Fuller and W. B. Pitcher, of Richmond, Va., to bid for the erection of the Charlotte William Hospital at that place. It will be a six-story structure, of stone and brick, of handsome design, contain all known hospital appliances and conveniences, including elevators, gas and electric lighting, steam and hot water heating, modern plumbing, etc. Plans and specifications may be seen at the offices of J. E. & A. L. Pennock.

The status of the buildings to be erected by the University of Pennsylvania is about as follows: The physical laboratory building, for which funds have been provided, will be two stories, 340x200 feet. The plans and specifications are being made by Architects Cope & Stewardson, who are also making plans for the Scott Memorial Clinical Amphitheatre Building. The cost of this affair will be about $15,000, the funds for which are provided. The proposed gymnasium building will not be commenced until the entire cost of erection has been secured. Architect Notes.

Architects Milligan & Weber, 520 Walnut street, are making plans for a three-story stable, to be built for Machin & Brown, in the rear of 1607 Wallace street.

At McKeesport, Pa., W. F. Wilson, Yester Building, has prepared plans for a school building to be erected in the Tenth Ward, McKeesport, at a cost of about $40,000.

Architect John Flynn is preparing plans for alterations and additions to the Egan residence at Forty fifth street and Chester avenue. The plans show a large dining hall addition on first floor, and a butler's pantry on second floor.

Architect Henry C. Dagit, 435 Chestnut street, is making revised drawings for the St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic Parochial School, to be erected at Twenty-third street and Montgomery avenue. Bids will be asked for in about a week.

William A. Poland, Treuton, N. J., has prepared plans for a colonial dwelling to be erected on Scotch road for Mr. James McDonald. It will have a frontage of 72 feet, fine interior finish and all modern improvements. The cost will be $20,000.

Architect C. E. Rahn, 410 Walnut street, has about completed drawings for four dwellings to be erected in West Philadelphia. They will be two stories and basement each, of brick and have the usual appointments. It is not yet known when bids will be asked for.

Architects Collins & Autenreith, 410 Walnut street, have sent out specifications for bids on improvements to be made for Thomas Martindale & Co., northeast corner Tenth and Market streets. Among those who have been asked to bid is Jos. Bird, 1024 Race street, and six others, whose names are refused.

Architect Lawrence Visscher Boyd, Harrison Building, is making plans for a handsome country home to be built for Mr. W. T. B. Roberts, at Ogontz Park. The building will be three stories, of stone and frame, and furnished throughout with the latest conveniences and interior appointments. Bids will shortly be asked for.

Architect Albert E. Yarnall, 14 South Broad street, is making plans for an operation of nine houses to be built at Ogontz Park, Elkins Station, Pa., for W. T. B. Roberts, 410 Land Title Building. The houses will be three stories, of brick, stone and frame, of different design each, and contain the very latest conveniences and interior appointments.

Architects C. W. Bolton & Co., Witherpoon Building, have plans in preparation for the erection of one story and basement stone church at Park and Susquehanna avenues for the Lutheran Evangelical Church of the Apostle, and also making plans for a one story and gallery addition to the Baptist Church at Thirty-first and Diamond streets.

F. G. Scheibler, First National Bank, Wilkinsburg, Pa., has prepared plans for a handsome colonial dwelling to be erected at Greensburg, Pa., for Mr. Joseph Steel. It will be of brick, fine interior finish, all modern conveniences. The cost will be $20,000. Also plans for an apartment house to be erected on Wood street, Wilkinsburg, for Mrs. Joseph Wright. The estimated cost is $10,000.

Architect W. L. Plack, 1408 Filbert street, has made plans for the alterations to the store of N. Snellenburg & Co., Twelfth and Market streets. These will embrace either the removal or a change to the main stairway, also removal of several elevators and the substitution of new ones similar to those in use at the Reading Terminal. The specifications are ready and the contract will be let during the next ten days.

Architects Schermerhorn & Reinhold, 490 Walnut street, say that as regards the plans for the new Montgomery County Court House to be erected at Norristown, Pa., the plans may or may not be revised. The question is entirely dependent upon the ability of the County Commissioners to secure the Preston property, adjoining the site. If this is not obtained the plans will have to be altered to adapt the building to a more limited area than at first contemplated. The cost is estimated at about $300,000.

Leon Cubberly, Long Branch, New Jersey, has prepared plans for a handsome summer home to be erected at Long Branch for Mr. George Stengel, of Newark, N. J. It will be of single construction, 2½ stories high. The interior will be finely finished, the reception hall and dining room to be panel ceiled and wainscoted with hard wood, parquette hard wood floors, handsomely carved hard wood stair-case, open fire places, leaded and plate glass windows, open nickel plated plumbing, three tiled bath rooms with fine fixtures and tubs, gas and electric lights, hot air furnace for heating, and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $30,000.

The plans of Architects Newman, Woodman and Harris, Real Estate Trust Building, have been accepted over eleven other competitors for extensive alterations and additions to be made to the Rittenhouse Club Building, 1811 and 1813 Walnut street. The plans show an additional story in the front and a two-story addition in the rear, and the interior to be remodeled and finished in quartered oak. The following are bidding on the work, viz: J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Thos. Little Son, Geo. F. Payne, Chas. Cornell Son, Doyle & Doak, Thos. M. Seeds, Lewis Haven & Sons, and Porter, Thompson Sons. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JUNE 5, 1901

For more than fifty years an English-woman (who is still living) has cherished a little sheaf of letters written by Charles Dickens. These charming letters show the novelist in a new part—that of the successful matchmaker. They tell the story of another man's courtship and show how the writer spared a faint heart into winning a fair lady. They will be printed—for the first time—in The Saturday Evening Post for June 15.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Seymour Davis and Paul Davis, 3d, 907 Walnut street, will receive bids from Mitchell Brothers and H. B. Shoemaker & Co. for the new school building to be erected at Haddonfield, N. J., as previously noted. Bids are due June 11th.

It is stated that the congregation of the Wissahickon Methodist Church, of which the Rev. Virgil E. Rorer, residence 1912 Poplar street, is pastor, will erect a new church building, $10,000 of the required amount having already been contributed.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have invited bids from W. J. Dougherty, Appleton & Burrell, and Thomas Little & Sons for dressing rooms, chemical rooms, and amphitheatre to the maternity department of the University of Pennsylvania. Bids are to be in by June 7.

Architect Albert W. Dilks, 1001 Chestnut street, has finished plans for the large and handsome colonial house for R. C. Neal, president of the Harrisburg, Pa., as previously reported, and has asked bids from Harrisburg builders and J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street. Bids close June 7th.

Thomas M. Seeds, 1216 Race street, has begun work on an addition, 42x42 feet and interior alterations, to the dwelling of Richard P. Leas, at Fortieth and Pine streets, West Philadelphia. The cost of these improvements will be about $10,000. The plans have been prepared by William C. Hays, 1012 Walnut street.

John W. Orr, owner, 3023 Frankford avenue, took out a permit on Monday last for 28 two-story brick dwellings, at 3302 to 3356 Howard street, cost $45,000; also 28 two-story brick dwellings, 3303 to 3357 Waterloo street, cost $45,000; also 2 two-story stores and dwellings, 3301 Waterloo street and 3300 Howard street, cost $4000.

The widening of Delaware avenue from Vine to Green street to an additional 100 feet seems a surety if Councils will make the necessary appropriation. The Vine street ferry houses and slips will have to be rebuilt. The work will involve the extension of a number of piers. Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys, can give information.

Architect Arnold H. Moses, 136 S. Fourth street, has asked bids from James B. Johnston, Geo. Bachmann, J. Sims Wilson, Machin & Brown, A. Whitehead, Wm. Severns, Camden, N. J., and J. S. Rogers Co., Stanwick, N. J., for the four-story brick fire-proof building to be erected in Camden, N. J., for the Campbell Freezing Co., as previously noted. Bids are to be in by noon, June 8th.

Dilks, 1001 Chestnut street; also are bidding on a round house and turn table pit for the C. & O. Railway at Richmond, Va., planned by the railway company's engineer, and are bidding on a three-story brick and stone dormitory for the academy of the new church at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Bids are due June 7.

Messrs. Cramp Co., 1421 Filbert street, are bidding on the copper-smith shop to be erected at the League Island Navy Yard, from plans by C. C. Volcott, civil engineer, U. S. N. The plans show a one-story copper shop, two-story boiler shop, and one-story foundry and plumbing shop, of stone, structural iron work, and tile roofs. Bids to be in June 15th, and also are bidding on a one-story stone out-building to be erected for the Wm. H. Horstman Co., Fifth and Cherry, from plans by David Knickerbacker Boyd. Bids due 9 o'clock A. M., June 8th.

Council's Committee on Highways agreed to recommend $2.60 per square yard for asphalt street paving, and that Trinidad and Bermudez lake asphaltum be specified. In the matter of John Wanamaker's ordinance for the right to tunnel under Thirteenth street, a communication from the Union Labor League was read. Councilman McNichol wanted the request to pass the ordinance ignored, while Councilman Bucholz claimed that there was no such ordinance before Councils. The committee agreed to recommend the construction of a foot bridge, to cost $3000, across the Reading Railroad tracks, at East street, in the Twenty-first ward; also to grade Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth streets, from Moyamensing avenue to Oregon avenue, and Shunk and Porter streets, from Fifth street to Broad street.

Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, have taken out a permit for the erection of the large store at Eighth and Market streets for Gimbel Bros. Stinger, Jenkintown, Pa., and Benton S. Russell, Ambler, Pa., for the erection of the 3 three-story houses for W. T. B. Roberts, at Elkins, Pa. Bids are due June 14.

The statement that more properties on Arch street have been purchased to enlarge the site of the proposed Foerderer office building at Broad and Arch streets is wrong. The sites purchased at the start measures 172.6 feet on Arch and 149 feet on Broad street; this includes 1406-8-10-12 Arch street. The building will be 16 stories high, and will cost about $2,500,000. The question of architect is still unsettled.

Work will soon begin on the parish house of the Episcopal Church at Havre De Grace, Md., from plans by Architect W. L. Plack. The house will be built by day work, and bids will soon be asked for by Mr. Plack for the erection of the three-story stone and frame dwelling of Harry Emmons, at Gordon Heights, Del., and for the alterations to the Citizens' National Bank, at Havre De Grace, Md., as previously reported.

Central Cornice Works, Chas. H. Blaine, proprietor, 311 North Fifteenth street, have secured the following contracts: Galvanized iron cornices on store and dwelling at Ninth and Wharton streets; skylights and ventilators on Patzowsky's morocco factory; and tin, slate and galvanized iron skylights on hotel, both at Wilmington, Del.; copper work on porch apartments, Cusaden Building, and Muloch stores at Atlantic City, N. J.

The statement that estimates are being made for the erection of the Commonwealth Title & Trust Co.'s new building at N. W. corner Twelfth and Chestnut streets, is incorrect. Architect John T. Windrim, 1107 Walnut street, is working on revised plans with the view of making them conform to the ideas of cost of the building committee. Nothing can be done in construction work until the case now in court as to the tenants is settled.

Architect S. Hudson Vaughan, Fidelity Building, has asked bids from The Philip Anns Company for a house, to be built on Tennessee avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. It will be a two-story structure of stone and brick, and measure 58.8 89.5 feet; and the same company are also bidding on the alterations to the residence of Mrs. Alfred L. Connor, at 244 West Logan square, from plans by Baker & Dallett, architects, 1421 Chestnut street.

It is stated that Franklin Field, the athletic grounds of the University of Pennsylvania, is to be enlarged. Mr. Louis C. Maderia, Jr., Insurance, Walnut below Fourth street, is chairman of the committee on grounds, and to him these matters have been referred. The plan proposed is to extend the field to its full limit to the East and to the Marston street fences. To rearrange the field, erect new stands and to enclose the whole field with a high stone or brick wall.

Architect C. W. Bolton, Witherspoon Building, has awarded Wm. E. Morrison & Son, Meadville, Pa., the contract for the erection of the two-story brick and terra cotta library building for the Allegheny College at a cost of $30,285, exclusive of furniture, and has awarded Albert & Meals, of Oil City, Pa., the contract for the erection of a chapel for the Allegheny College, at a cost of $29,683, exclusive of stained glass and all furniture. The chapel is a one-story stone building.

The building will be six stories high, of steel, and fire proof in construction, and measure 27x40 feet. Bids are due June 14th.

The estimates for the Thos. Martindale & Co.'s improvements at Tenth and Market streets will be returned this week. Those who have been asked for bids are builders Joseph Bird, R. J. Whiteside & Sons, A. Raymond Raff, Jno. R. Wiggins, Henry M. Kister, Geo. L. Slips and John Duncan. The contract will be let as soon as Mr. Bretenbaugh, of Martindale & Co., can digest the various bids. Collins & Autenreith, 410 Walnut street, architects. The contract for the improvements for Thomas Martindale & Co., N. E. cor Tenth and Market streets, will be let on the 14th instant.

Hoover & Son, Thomas Reilly and Machin & Brown are bidding on the Roman Catholic Church of the Incarnation to be erected at Olney, Pa. It will be a one-story and basement stone structure of the old Gothic style of architecture, and measure 60x110 feet, from plans by architects Milligan & Webber, 520 Walnut street. Bids are due June 15th, and the same architects have asked bids from Frank A. Souder, Atlantic City, N. J.; Harry B. Shoemaker, Frank S. Riggs, J. E. & A. L. Pennock.

W. J. Dougherty, builder, 1609 Sansom street, is bidding on a three-story stone dwelling with terra cotta trimmings, to be built at Overbrook, Pa. The structure will be of handsome design, contain billiard hall, reception room, butler's pantry, laundry, servants' room. Plans were made by David K. Boyd and Lawrence V. Boyd, associated architects, Harrison Building; also is estimating on alterations to be made to the house of Mrs. E. C. Lewis, 133 South Twenty-third street, from plans by Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, and is also bidding on a two-story and basement stone dwelling to be erected for Chas. P. Fox at Ambler, Pa., from drawings by Cope and Stewardson, 320 Walnut street.

Col. L. U. Maltby, of the Continental Hotel is the owner of two blocks of ground at Spring Lake, Monmouth county, N. J., which was the site of the old Monmouth Hotel, which was destroyed by fire. A new hotel building and ten modern cottages are now contemplated. The charter of the old L. U. Maltby Hotel Co., which run the old Monmouth Hotel, is still in existence and a new company to build the new hotel may be organized under the old charter or a new one taken out. Nothing has been decided upon and the only plans are those of the old hotel, which may or may not be used. Geo. F. Payne & Company will probably erect the buildings, as Mr. Payne is said to be interested. Mr. Payne, Col. Maltby and other Philadelphians are to meet a party of New York capitalists at Spring Lake this week. The idea is to utilize the site which covers two entire blocks for a fashionable hotel and summer and winter resort.

The Bureau of Surveys will probably give out this week contracts for several new bridges as well as main and branch sewers. The bridges designated will cost about $141,000. These will include one at Luzerne street under the tracks of the North Penn R. R., $90,000, one at Oak Lane over the tracks of the North

Penn., $20,000, and one at Gibson avenue over the tracks of the B. & O. to cost $30,000. $350,000 will cover the cost of the sewers, there being ten mains and fifty branches provided for. The mains will be located on York street between Tulip and Aramingo streets, Cohocink sewer relief on Mascher street between Thompson street and Girard avenue. The Merion Creek sewer branch will be extended on Orthodox street from Carbon street to the Delaware River. On Roschill street from Allegheny avenue to the railroad. IMPROVED WALLS AND CEILING

No more wooden laths to buckle and fall. Use Sackett's Plaster Boards, nailed directly to studding and finished with plaster. Walls and ceiling constructed with this Plaster Board are a fire retardant, light and durable; cannot fall; saves weeks of time, as the light finishing required dries quickly; are warmer than lath and plaster, and cleaner in application. "Sport Indeed."

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and why does not this very old maxim hold as good to-day as when it was written—no one knows how many years ago?

"Sport Indeed," is a new book, by Thomas Martindale, who, were it not for his periodical outings amidst nature's wilds in quest of game and fish, could not do the work he has been doing daily for over a quarter of a century without breaking. The work is doubly interesting, because the author is one of our own busy business men, who even spares a great deal of his own time on matters of public interest.

The author is just as practical in his hunting episodes as he is in his business.

He does both well because the self-same well-balanced mind and physical vigor arrange and manage both.

The moral is to avoid the everlasting grind, and take an outing when you can get it—but take it anyhow.

No more wooden laths to buckle and fall. Use Sackett's Plaster Boards, nailed directly to studding and finished with plaster. Walls and ceiling constructed with this Plaster Board are a fire retardant, light and durable; cannot fall; saves weeks of time, as the light finishing required dries quickly; are warmer than lath and plaster, and cleaner in application. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JULY 3, 1901

THERE is a wee bit of irony expressed in the decided preference given by a Republican administration to the architects of the great Democratic city of New York in the selection of architects to make competitive plans for the proposed agricultural building to be erected by the government at Washington, D. C.

We do not know and we do not believe that politics had a hand in the selection of six architectural firms in New York and but a single one, Cope & Stewardson, in Philadelphia, but the iron is there and it hurts all the same, and this after Philadelphia's many years of great majorities and devotion to the cause of the Republican party.

Council has granted the privilege to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to build a bridge over Filbert street west of Fifteenth street to connect with a ten-story office building which the company will erect on Filbert street. The Company owns four properties adjoining the northwest cor. of Fifteenth and Filbert streets, which will be torn down, and upon the site the office building will go up and will correspond with the Broad Street Station. The bridge which the Company proposes to build will be ninety feet above the street surface and will connect the fourth floor of the Broad Street Station with the fourth floor of the annex building. It will be much the highest bridge to be found over Philadelphia streets, and its remarkable altitude has been decided upon, according to the Pennsylvania Railroad officials, in order to insure its being completely out of the way of any building operations in connection with the forthcoming elevated railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad will also have an additional passenger entrance on Market street, adjoining the new package room. A doorway will open level with the floor of the train shed immediately into a handsome iron bridge which will span Market street over the heads of the street traffic, and will land passengers in the company office building at the southeast corner of Fifteenth and Market streets and from thence to the street.

Vertical Vent Closets.

A new and important invention, as well as an invaluable addition to sanitary plumbing, is the use of a large vertical pipe placed so far above the water line in the hopper that even in case of an overflow the vent cannot become clogged or obstructed in any way.

This not only assures a perfect escape for obnoxious gases, but it facilitates ventilation, because of its direct connection on a broad scale of the hopper to the vent stack.

The size of the vertical vent is, as can be readily seen, superior to the old small vent closets, because it can be thoroughly scrubbed, if ever necessary, as easily as the hopper itself.

Messrs. Pierce, Butler & Pierce, of Syracuse, New York, manufacturers of several steam and hot water boilers and radiators, are the manufacturers of this new vertical vent closet, which has become a great favorite in New York building and plumbing circles.

The new closet requires no more room than the old and badly ventilated closets.

A descriptive circular has been issued by Messrs. Pierce, Butler & Pierce devoted entirely to the vertical vent closet, which architects and others can obtain for the asking.

From January 1st to June 30th, inclusive, together with the mortgage and ground rent income—brance on the properties transferred.

3017 new buildings of all kinds, costing (estimated), exclusive of the cost of the land, $12,764,070, an increase over the construction work of the same period of last year of 1330 buildings and $4,346,343 in the amount invested.

1322 alterations and additions, costing $1,983,000, against 1065 last year, costing $1,597,500, an increase of 257, while the amount expended is $385,500 greater. Total expenditures this year, $14,747,070, or $4,731,843 greater than the total for the first six months of 1900.

The above statement represents a greater change in local conditions than seems apparent from individual observation.

While some men will wisely deplore this renewed activity in building and attribute it to the recklessness of adventurous individuals backed by Trust Companies, we are inclined to the contrary belief, because we know that Trust Companies are rigidly conservative as a result of past experience, and have not for a long time been inclined to entertain schemes that were not in the hands of capable men.

In fact, we have been assured by those who know that the great bulk of the building capital this year does not represent the funds of Trust Companies, but is in fact, furnished through private sources.

It must be conceded that there are men of sound judgment who have built largely this year, and who are neither reckless, adventurers or wild speculators.

There are two sides to this, as to all other questions, and in all sincerity we ask why the men of sound judgment and experience who have kept a tab on the rapid occupancy of our small dwellings which were by the thousands unoccupied a year ago, should not build extensively if the capital to do so was available.

We have seriously and earnestly endeavored to settle this question of empty houses as a part of the above proposition, and we are prepared to assert that conditions in this respect have changed to a greater extent than most people will believe.

Of course, the way things have been going in the past, the acquisition of 2758—the product thus far this year—small dwellings to be sold or rented is no small factor to face when one properly considers supply and demand, for these are fully capable of meeting the housekeeping necessities of the same number of families, or an increase of population of over 13,000; but conditions are different, and if anyone desires a better basis on which to calculate the probable wants in the housekeeping line than the marriage rate in a community like this, he must go farther than the REAL ESTATE RECORD office for his data, for none better can be furnished.

We are indebted to Chief B'rd of the Marriage License Bureau for the information that there have been over 6000 marriage licenses granted by him since January 1, 1901, and that there were over 1700 granted during the month of June alone. There were less than 9000 during the whole of 1900, and that was the heaviest for many years.

To us this marriage business is indicative of thrift, growth, economy and prosperity, and inasmuch as it was mainly the absence of these potent factors that kept the dwellings empty for a prolonged and serious period to the owners, they certainly merit large respect, now that these self-same dwellings are generally well occupied in all sections of the city, and even in the textile manufacturing districts, whose business interests are not so extensive as they should be at present.

A little while since English boot manufacturers began to feel the pinch of American competition. They faced the situation and began to improve matters. In many cases they sent over for American boot making machinery, which is admittedly superior to any formerly used here. Their effort to check the rising American tide has, however, so far proved in vain. In 1898 America sent shoes to the value of $72,714; in 1899, $147,946; last year the figures had risen to £28,257.

An analysis of our tables show that there is one less of the office buildings over two stories, but the cost of the 2 erected this year is $162,000 greater than the cost of the 3 erected last year.

There are 106 industrial buildings against 64 for the same period of last year, a gain of 42, while the investment is greater by $1,387,746. This magnificent gain in industrial buildings voices all the justification that is needed for the increased number of dwellings erected this year. The increase in industrial buildings is as follows: Warehouses 14, and the amount expended is $1,024,200 greater than for the same period last year.

Dye and dry houses 2, and $15,650 greater investment. There are 2 more factories, but the investment is $255,425 less. Engine and boiler houses 5 more, and $15,650 greater investment. There are 2 more breweries and bottling houses, and the investment is greater by $39,850. There are 4 more foundries and shops, and the investment is $105,021 greater than the cost of those built for the first six months last year. Stores (not stores and dwellings) number 20 this year and but 7 in our last year's report. The investment in the store buildings this year is $442,760 more than the 7 cost last year.

Operation work this year, two and three-story dwellings, number 2758, or 1210 more than for the first six months of last year. There are 2158 two-story and 600 three-story dwellings. West Philadelphia is to be accounted with 627 of these, the Thirty-fourth, with its 425, having been surpassed by but a single ward in the whole city, that being the Thirty-third, with 504.

The principal gains in two-story dwellings are the First Ward, with 3; Second, 3; Sixth, 10; Twenty-first, 16; Twenty-second, 41; Twenty-third, 64; Twenty-fifth, 16; Twenty-seventh, 9; Twenty-eighth, 14; Thirtieth, 51; Thirty-second, 6; Thirty-third, 346; Thirty-fourth, 36; Thirty-seventh, 46; Thirty-eighth, 63; Thirty-ninth, 36; the Forty-first, 8.

The 600 three-story dwellings are 92 more than for the same period of last year, and West Philadelphia is responsible for 284 of the total. The principal gains are in the Second Ward, 4; Third, 4; Eighteenth, 6; Nineteenth, 3; Twentieth, 3; Twenty-first, 24; Twenty-third, 7; Twenty-fourth, 15; Twenty-fifth, 16; Twenty-ninth, 3; Thirty-second, 11; Thirty-fourth, 27; Thirty-fifth, 9; Thirty-seventh, 21; Thirty-ninth, 24; Fortieth, 4; Forty-first, 2. The principal and most serious falling off from last year is in the Thirty-eighth Ward, with its loss of 32, and the Twenty-second, with a loss of 31.

The Twenty-eighth is 14 short; Thirty-third, 24.

seven hundred and fifty millions of bushels and an export market unimpaired, unless it be in Russia, there is not a shadow of a doubt as to results for 1901. In Germany, if reports are correct, the crop is a failure, and it is stated that France will need 40,000,000 more bushels of wheat than it did last year.

The cotton crop, notwithstanding its 10,000,000 bales last year, will show a large increase this year.

The London Mail says, in speaking of inroads the American manufacturers are making in the English markets, says:

"The invasion goes on unceasingly and without noise or show in 500 industries at once. From shaving soap to electric motors and from shirt-waists to telephones the American is clearing the field. 70-day it is literally true that they are selling American cottons in Manchester, pig iron in Lancashire, tin plate in Cardiff and steel in Sheffield. It only remains for them to take American coal to Newcastle. Modern office furniture, from the desk to the door mat, is nearly all American in every up-to-date establishment. One sits on a Nebraska swivel chair before a Michigan roll-top desk, writing one's letters on a Syracuse typewriter, signing them with a New York fountain pen and drying them with a blotting sheet from New England. The letter copies are put away in files manufactured in Grand Rapids. The value of typewriters brought to England from New York and Boston is considerably over £4000 a week. Three years ago some cheap American blouses were imported, and last year the greater part of the English ready-made shirt-waists traded went to America. One English firm sold American blouses for women to the value of £57,000. Now that they have annexed our blouse trade, the Americans are entering seriously into Grand Rapids business. The huge factory is very profitable line in men's braces, and in high-class underclothes they are likely for a time to have things much their own way. Take another allied trade. A little time since English boot manufacturers began to feel the pinch of American competition. They faced the situation and began to improve matters. In many cases they sent over for American boot making machinery, which is admittedly superior to any formerly used here. There are 33 more stables than last year's report, and the investment is $49,500 more.

There are 3 more churches, but the cost of the churches is $4,037 less than the 4 erected last year.

Miscellaneous buildings are 20 more, but the investment in these falls short of last year's $17,729.

It will be seen that the alterations and additions which we consider of sufficient importance to record number 1322 this year against 1065 last year, an increase of 257, while the cost is greater by $385,500. The most of the expenditures in these this year was in improvements to industrial and business plants.

The transfers of real estate to June 30 inclusive this year number 6768, or 376 more than for the same period last year. The values of the properties transferred is $12,867,708.17, while last year's transfers for the same months was $34,649,137.49, the increase being $3,218,570.68.

The following table of transfers for the first six months of each year since 1880 will give comparisons:

The mortgage incumbrances on the properties transferred this year amount to $16,932,312.86, or 30 per cent., and in 1900 for the same period the mortgage incumbrance was 39.7 per cent.; in 1899 it was 38 per cent.; in 1898, 35.8 per cent.; in 1897, 30 per cent.; in 1896, 34.5 per cent.; in 1895, 30 per cent.; in 1894, 27.3 per cent.; in 1893, 22.1 per cent.; in 1892, 20 per cent.; in 1891, 23 per cent.; in 1890, 20.5 per cent.; in 1889, 21 per cent., and in 1888, 19.2 per cent.

The ground rents amount to $373,825.21, which on a six per cent. basis represents a further incumbrance on the properties transferred this year of $6,230,420.16.

Auction sales of real estate amount to $2,028,191.00, or $30,746.74 less than they were for the same months last year. The total incumbrance on the real estate sold at auction is $1,500.00.

Largest old Book Store in America

Books Bought

If you have a library or a small parcel of books, send your address and we will call and examine them. If you live away from Philadelphia and have a small lot—say of fifty, one hundred, two hundred, three hundred books—not enough to pay us to make a special trip—send us a list and we will let you know by mail how we buy small quantities. We have thousands of such transactions, and never a dissatisfied seller.

This Journal is mailed Weekly and Continuously to every Architect in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington; also to every builder and owner obtaining a building permit in Philadelphia and Camden; also to every person reported in its columns as building or going to build anywhere and everywhere.

This is our contract with advertisers, and is independent of our subscription list; it means more buyers of construction material than is reached in the above territory by any journal in America.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JULY 24, 1901

The friends of Thomas P. Twibill, and he has a host of them, will be pleased to learn that he has resumed business with all of his old time energy and enterprise.

Mr. Twibill's misfortunes in the past were the result of business conditions. He was simply one of the many good men who fell through the fearful slump in real estate.

Mr. Twibill is a brainy, active worker, with bright and progressive ideas, backed by all the nerve and restless energy of the typical American.

If indefatigable work will bring success, Thos. P. Twibill will get there, and don't forget it either. Mr. Twibill's office is now at 810 Witherspoon Building.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JULY 31, 1901

PHILADELPHIA has always been generous to her Commissioners of Fairmount Park, and municipal liberality in this instance has been repaid many times over in the development of the vast and varied resources and advantages of one of the world's greatest and most beautiful public pleasure grounds. But the estimate of over $1,100,000 for maintenance and improvement of the Park next year is somewhat staggering. The Commissioners should find the golden mean of expenditure and stick to it.—Philadelphia Record.

OLD DELAWARE, while still justly proud of her traditional blue hen's chickens, whose gameness won many a dollar when cock fighting was legalized by custom, has now more reason to be proud of her "Wilmington Morning News," which, for modern go-ahead progressiveness, not only ranks with the average morning daily of the big cities, but wholesomely outranks many of them, notwithstanding their advantages over our little Wilmington contemporary.

On Saturday last the "Morning News" issued a forty page edition, which, in many ways, was a revelation as well as a surprise, for it not only revealed hundreds of big business enterprises which, were it not for the "News," no one would have known of their existence, and the surprise was in the ease and nonchalance with which Ned Hoopes engineered the big edition in hot weather without wetting a frill or losing an hour's sleep over it.

Why Was This Thus?

A few hours before the Allenhurst Inn was burned at Allenhurst, N. Y., a well-filled pocketbook was sealed up in an envelope and placed in the safe, where after the fire everything was found in perfect order except the pocketbook. The large envelope containing the wallet was still sealed, but, after tearing it open, they found that the large leather pocketbook had crumbled into ashes. The bills, jewelry and papers which were in the pocketbook, however, were uninjured. Everyone who saw the pocketbook marveled that the fire had had no effect on the package but had destroyed the leather pocketbook within it.—Fire and Water.

Architect Notes.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, are working on preliminary plans for an apartment house and flat to be erected in West Philadelphia at an approximate cost of $500,000. Details later.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have prepared plans and are asking for bids for a six-story hotel to be erected opposite Young's Pier for Captain John Young, of Atlantic City, N. J.

E. Hazelhurst, architect, Girard Building, has prepared plans for alterations to store building for Walter J. Crowder, of Germantown. Bids are now in the hands of the owner, who will award the contract in a short while.

Engineering department of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad is at work on plans for a large passenger station to be erected at Royersford, Pa. The work is in the charge of William Hunter, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad.

Otto Wolff, architect, 1025 Arch street, has prepared plans and specifications for wash house for D. V. Yeungling, of Pottsville, Pa. It is to be a two-story brick building, with tin roof and to have all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in about ten days.

Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department has invited estimates from the members of the Master Builders' Exchange for the construction of the new United States Post Office to be erected at Butte, Mon. The heating plant and electric wiring will not be included in this contract.

C. W. Bolton Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, inform us that plans and specifications for the new church, at Lehigh, Pa., will be ready for estimates in about ten days; also the plans and specifications for the Y. M. C. A. building for the Lafayette College, at Easton, Pa., will be ready for bids in about two to three weeks.

H. H. King, architect, 1217 Filbert street, has completed plans for improvements to Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, 41st and Spring Garden street, which consist of new flooring and granite supports for the gallery and work in hard oak. The following builders are bidding: William R. Dougherty & Co. and Jacob Meyers & Sons.

Frank H. Kelsker, architect, 14 South Broad street, has prepared plans for John Gibson, builder, Witherspoon Building, for a house to be built at 1126 Marlborough street for Mr. Donietso Felix. It is to be a three story residence of Pompeian brick and stone with tin roof, and will have all modern improvements.

A request for bids on repairs to the heating and steam plants in the United States Treasury and in the Winder Buildings in Washington, D. C., is posted in the Master Builders' Exchange. Bids must be in by August 10th, subject to the approval of J. Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, at Washington, D. C.

Herman Miller, architect, Crozer Building, has completed plans for the hospital for contagious diseases to be built at Narberth, Pa., and will request separate estimates for material about the first of September. The structure will be two stories high and be built of stone and iron, and will contain every modern improvement. The cost is roughly figured at $250,000.

Competitive plans are to be prepared in a short while by local architects for a large addition to be built on the north side of the Hahnemann Hospital, on Fifteenth street above Race. This ground, which has a frontage of 76 feet on Fifteenth street, was donated to the Hospital by Mr. George O. Thomas. This information came direct from Dr. Cooper, General Manager of the Hospital.

Messrs. Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1018 Walnut street, deny the report in daily newspapers that they have completed plans and will ask for bids for United States Court House and Post office, to be built at Annapolis, Maryland. They have no knowledge of any such buildings to go up there, so consequently could not prepare plans.

Perot & Bissell, architects, Bourse Building, have prepared plans for alterations and additions for the Carleton Hall near Queen lane, Germantown, for Mr. Robert C. Smith. The following builders have been asked to bid: W. R. Dougherty, F. W. Allison & Co., and William J. Gruhler, of Germantown. Bids to be in the latter part of this week.

Herman Miller, architect, Crozier Building, is preparing plans for the 22-story annex building to be erected on the present Hotel Lafayette site for the Land Title and Trust Co., at Broad and Chestnut streets. It will cost about $2,500,000. These plans are in competition with Burham & Co. of Chicago. Mr. Miller informs us that the demolishing of old building will probably take place on or around the 1st of January, 1902.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and are receiving bids for two stables and two houses. One is a 46 foot front, of brick and stone, of a Colonial style of residence. The other is a 64 foot front, stone and plaster and half timber residence, of old English design. Both are three-story in height, with all modern appointments. The stables are to be equipped with coachman quarters. These buildings are to be located in Wynnewood, Pa.

Guy King, architect, 481 Walnut street, has plans on hand for stable for Briar Cliff Lodge at New York. It is to be built of stone and frame, half timber with shingle roof, to have 150 stalls, with all modern stable fittings. Top floor for servants' quarters, with baths, showers, etc., also to contain bowling alley, shuffle board, basket ball court, etc. Estimated cost $60,000. Will want bids in a couple days.

Amos Barnes, architect and engineer, Ninth and Walnut streets, is preparing plans for alterations and additions, including bath room, enlarging dining room, pantry and kitchen, adding bay window and the construction of a large porch to an old Colonial house near Ridge and Parker avenues, Roxborough, Philadelphia. All improvements, including water, gas, lighting, plumbing, etc., are to be installed and the house completely renovated and modernized. Will be ready for bids the latter part of this week.

Rowland Boyle, architect, Perry Building, is preparing plans for a new Roman Catholic Church to be built at Mahanoy Plane, Pa. It will be frame, 45 by 155 feet, with a tower on one corner. It will seat 550 persons and will have two sacristies in the rear. There will be three doors in the main front and a large rose window over the central one. The gable and tower will be surmounted with galvanized iron crosses. The building will be heated by steam and lit by electricity. There will be a gallery over the vestibule which will be used for an organ loft. The interior fittings, pews, altars, rail, confessionals, etc., will be oak. The windows will be leaded glass. The buildings will cost approximately $15,000. Mr. Rowland Boyle is also planning two other churches in which details will be given later.

M. H. and C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, Real Estate Building, are working on plans for an addition and alteration to house located in the central portion of the city. It is to be colonial in design and built of black heater bricks with Indiana limestone, to be four stories high, with all modern improvements. JOHN N. GALLAGHER,
Proprietor, Publisher and Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 14, 1901

John Lucas.

John Lucas first visited the United States in 1844—he left his native country however in January, 1849, for the purpose of settling either in Boston or Philadelphia; arriving in the latter city he was so well pleased with it that he determined to make it his home. He, therefore, lost no time in establishing himself as an importer of paints at 33 North Front street. Desiring to make himself independent of the foreign sources of supply, it was not long before he purchased a large water-power and tract of land across the river Delaware in the State of New Jersey, now known as the Gibbsboro Paint, Color and Varnish Works, where he commenced the manufacture of such products as won for them a high reputation as a standard of quality throughout the United States and Canada.

He was highly esteemed by all who knew him, being a man of strict probity, sound judgment, business ability, prompt, straightforward and upright in all his dealings; his high attainments, genial and courteous nature, together with his many traits, making him many friends and producing warm attachments.

He took an active interest in the early development of the far-famed seaside resort—Atlantic City; indeed, it owed its first great start and "boom" to his foresight and energy in publishing and making known its many advantages while he was a director of and subsequently the president of the Camden and Atlantic Railroad. In 1890, or thereabouts, in conjunction with others, he endeavored to enlist the interest of Philadelphians in an underground system of railways, which, if the plans they submitted and published in pamphlet form had been put into practice, would have proved greatly to the benefit of the city and the comfort of its citizens.

He was a member of the Union League, the Art and Young Republican clubs, the Society of the Sons of St. George (and its president for some years), the Albion, the Transcendental Societies, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, the Five O'Clock Club, the Society for Organizing Charities and various other organizations; also a member of the Trimble Lodge, A. Y. M., of Camden, N. J.

Mr. Lucas was a member of Grace P. E. Church in Philadelphia, and for many years one of its vestrymen, until failing health compelled him to resign. He was ever a most liberal giver of his funds to everything connected with it. He took a great interest in the aged inmates of the Hayes Mechanics' Home and they manifested their keenest pleasure in his frequent visits, as he always had a cheering word for each and evidenced a lively concern and regard for all their little "hobbies." He was a man of the most generous and noble impulses; the active co-operation in all that tended to the comfort and well being of his employees endeared him to every one of them. At every Christmas time they manifested to him their appreciation of his kindness of heart by presenting him with some testimony of their esteem and love for him.

In 1854 Mr. Lucas married an American lady, who bore him nine sons and six daughters; twelve of these children are now living. Mrs. Lucas, assisted by her husband, took an active interest in the development of silk culture in the United States, and one of the lady managers and delegates to the Columbian World's Fair. She was well known to Philadelphians for her womanly qualities and activities in all that tended to the uplifting of the poor and lowly in her native city, as well as for her lively interest in all matters pertaining to the Indians and Chinese.

Mr. John Lucas was born November 24, 1825, at Stone, Staffordshire, England, and although always an ardent admirer of his native land, was a most enthusiastic adherent of the land of his adoption, which he dearly loved.

A more extended sketch may be found in the Contemporary American Biography, Atlantic Publishing and Engraving Co., 1895, age 490.

Removal.

Messrs. Vollmer & Register, well-known in the cement and stone business, have removed their offices to 1210 Fidelity Building, 112 N. Broad street.

This firm is the selling agent in this section for the well-known Atlas Cement, which has become a general favorite throughout the whole country.

About Streets.

Washington, D. C., has a street 17½ miles in length; it is the longest in the world. The shortest street is the Rue Ble, Paris, which is barely 20 feet long. The widest street is Market street, Philadelphia; the narrowest the Via Sol, Havana, which is only 3½ feet wide. The highest street is Main street, Denver, Col.; the lowest street, which is below the level of the sea, Main street, Georgetown, British Guiana. The cleanest street is Regent street, London; the dirtiest, Tehang-Tee street, Nankin.—Exchange.

Rock of 25,000 Tons.

The largest solid piece of granite ever loosened in a quarry in this country was separated from its natural bed in the quarries of Crotch Island, Stonington, a few days ago. Some idea of its dimensions can be gained when by careful measurements it was estimated to weigh 25,000 tons. This enormous mountain of granite is 325 feet long, 50 feet wide and 35 feet in depth. Months of careful work were expended in loosening it from the pyramid-like mountain where it rests.—Exchange.

street are said to have been secured through the efforts of Real Estate Broker Felix Isman, whose office is at 604-606 Chestnut street, for a syndicate represented by Mr. Henry Tannall, President of the Franklin National Bank of this city, Mr. Isman representing the property owner. The ultimate object it is stated, is to erect a magnificent office building on the site, the cost of which it is stated approximates $6,000,000. There are several long leases associated with some of the properties purchased, and it may be several years before an office building can be erected.

President Shoemaker, of the Department of Charities and Correction, has stated that the contracts for the construction of three buildings as additions to the Philadelphia Hospital have not yet been awarded, as no quorum has been present at the meetings, owing to the season of the year. As soon as the absent members return the bids will be considered. The three projected buildings include a Hospital for Skin Diseases, a Children's Hospital and a Maternity House, of which all have been described in the previous issues of this journal. The amount appropriated for the work is $80,000, of which $35,000 is to be used for the Children's Hospital, $35,000 for the Hospital for Skin Diseases, and $10,000 for the Maternity House. The heating plants may have to be omitted to keep within the appropriation.

The following fairy tale is a clipping from the "Architects and Builders' Journal," of Baltimore. If Annanias was alive he would hide his head for veritable shame and discomfort in the face of this Western brick-maker:

WILL BUILD TILL HE FALLS.

"A bet has been made out West due to a controversy as to the quality of the bricks produced by a large brickyard there. The proprietor and a contractor, himself a graduate brick mason, got into a discussion, and as the result a bet of $10,000 was made. The builder maintained that the brick would not sustain a column of 300 feet. He is to undertake the construction of a stack, and after it reaches a height that ordinary workmen refuse to continue on the structure, he will himself continue it up until something gives way. If the thing falls before it reaches 300 feet he wins; otherwise he loses. The stack is to be six and one-half bricks square at the base, with a square one-foot flue up which the bricks are to be conveyed. The builder agrees to continue the stack until it falls, to be at the top when the thing gives away, and bets an additional $5000 he is not hurt in the collapse. The loser is to pay for the bricks."
